A Woman Like That Lesbian And Bisexual Writers Tell Their:

A Woman Like That Joan Larkin, 2009-10-13 The act of coming out has the power to transform every aspect of a woman's life family friendships career sexuality spirituality An essential element of self realization it is the unabashed acceptance of one's outlaw standing in a predominantly heterosexual world These accounts sometimes heart wrenching often exhilarating encompass a wide breadth of backgrounds and experiences From a teenager institutionalized for her passion for women to the mother who must come out to her young sons at the risk of losing them from the cautious academic to the raucous liberated femme each woman represented here tells of forging a unique path toward the difficult but emancipating recognition of herself Extending from the 1940s to the present day these intensely personal stories in turn reflect a unique history of the changing social mores that affected each woman's ability to determine the shape of her own life Together they form an ornate tapestry of lesbian and bisexual experience in the United States over the past half century Married

Not in This Family Heather Murray, 2012-02-10 Many Americans hold fast to the notion that gay men and women more often than not have been ostracized from disapproving families Not in This Family challenges this myth and shows how kinship ties were an animating force in gay culture politics and consciousness throughout the latter half of the twentieth century Historian Heather Murray gives voice to gays and their parents through an extensive use of introspective writings particularly personal correspondence and diaries as well as through published memoirs fiction poetry song lyrics movies and visual and print media Starting in the late 1940s and 1950s Not in This Family covers the entire postwar period including the gay liberation and lesbian feminist movements of the 1960s and 1970s the establishment of PFLAG Parents Families and Friends of Lesbians and Gays and the AIDS crisis of the 1980s and 1990s Ending her story with an examination of contemporary coming out rituals Murray shows how the personal that was once private became political and finally public In exploring the intimate reciprocal relationship of gay children and their parents Not in This Family also chronicles larger cultural shifts in privacy discretion and public revelation and the very purpose of family relations Murray shows that private bedrooms and consumer culture social movements and psychological fashions all had a part to play in transforming the modern family

A Lesbian Gay Guide to Selecting the Best-Fit College or University and Enjoying the College Years Donald W.
