Special attention is given to the input devices and systems that create efficient human-machine interfaces and how they help non-technical personnel perform necessary programming control and supervision tasks. Drawing upon years of practical experience and using numerous examples and illustrative applications, J. Norberto Pires covers robotics programming as it applies to the current industrial robotic equipment including manipulators control systems and programming environments. Software interfaces that can be used to develop distributed industrial manufacturing cells and techniques which can be used to build interfaces between robots and computers. Real-world applications with examples designed and implemented recently in the lab. Industrial Robots Programming has been selected for indexing by Scopus. For more information about Industrial Robotics, please find the author's Industrial Robotics collection at the iTunesU University of Coimbra channel.

Robot Manipulators Marco Ceccarelli, 2008-09-01 In this book we have grouped contributions in 28 chapters from several authors all around the world on the several aspects and challenges of research and applications of robots with the aim to show the recent advances and problems that still need to be considered for future improvements of robot success in worldwide frames. Each chapter addresses a specific area of modeling, design and application of robots but with an eye to give an integrated view of what makes a robot a unique modern system for many different uses and future potential applications. Main attention has been focused on design issues as though challenging for improving capabilities and further possibilities of robots for new and old applications as seen from today's technologies and research programs. Thus, great attention has been addressed to control aspects that are strongly evolving also as a function of the improvements in robot modeling, sensors, servo power systems and informatics. But even other aspects are considered as of fundamental challenge both in design and use of robots with improved performance and capabilities like, for example, kinematic design, dynamics, vision integration.
