Rozwarski, 2002 Life or movie Which comes first is a glimpse into an aspiring screenwriter s mind as he tries to figure out the inner workings of high concept movies The author starts out with the premise that there are very easy rules that govern storytelling rules which are universal and tolerate no exceptions That is how he was led to discard traditional perspectives of movie analysis one after the other Field Campbell Jung Freud which all proved to be unfaithful to observable facts The author proposes then a change of paradigm and a different look at storytelling fiction is like magic you cannot explain it or it will break the spell ruin the magic But when you think about it there are no two rational ways of making a rabbit appear from a hat

Travel and Drugs in Twentieth-Century Literature Lindsey Michael Banco, 2013-01-11 This book examines the connections between two disparate yet persistently bound thematics mobility and intoxication and explores their central yet frequently misunderstood role in constructing subjectivity following the 1960s Emerging from profound mid twentieth century changes in how drugs and travel were imagined the conceptual nexus discussed sheds new light on British and North American responses to sixties counterculture With readings of Aldous Huxley William Burroughs Alex Garland Hunter S Thompson and Robert Sedlack Banco traces twin arguments looking at the ways travel is imagined as a disciplinary force acting upon the creative destabilizing powers of psychedelic intoxication and exploring the ways drugs help construct travel spaces and practices as at times revolutionary and at other times neo colonial By following a sequence of shifting understandings of drug and travel orthodoxies this book traverses fraught and irresistibly linked terrains from the late 1950s up to a period marked by international postmodern tourism As such it helps illuminate a world where tourism is continually expanding yet constantly circumscribed and where illegal drugs are both increasingly unregulated in the global economy and perceived more and more as crucial agents in the construction of human subjectivity

Rhetorical Refusals John Schilb, 2007-11-20 The first book to explore rhetorical refusals instances in which speakers and writers deliberately flout the conventions of rhetoric and defy their audiences expectations Rhetorical Refusals Defying Audiences Expectations challenges the reader to view these acts of academic rebellion as worthy of deeper analysis than they are commonly accorded as rhetorical refusals can simultaneously reveal unspoken assumptions behind the very conventions they challenge while also presenting new rhetorical strategies Through a series of case studies John Schilb demonstrates the deeper meanings contained within rhetorical refusals when dance critic Arlene Croce refused to see a production that she wrote about when historian Deborah Lipstadt declined to debate Holocaust deniers when President Bill Clinton denied a grand jury answers to their questions and when Frederick Douglass refused to praise Abraham Lincoln unequivocally Each of these unexpected strategies revealed issues of much greater importance than the subjects at hand By carefully laying out an underlying framework with which to evaluate these acts Schilb shows that they can variously point to the undue privilege of authority the ownership of truth the illusory divide between public and private lives and the subjectivity of honor According to Schilb rhetorical refusals have the potential to help political discourse become more inventive To demonstrate this potential Schilb looks at some notable cases in which invitations have led to unexpected results comedian Stephen Colbert s brazen performance at the White House Press Association dinner poet Sharon Olds s refusal to attend the White House Book Fair and activist Cindy Sheehan s display of an anti war message at the 2006 State of the Union Address Rhetorical Refusals
