Alexandria City Of Memory:

Alexandria Michael Haag,2004 A luminous portrait of the now vanished cosmopolitan city and those who inhabited it during the first half of the 20th century This book is a literary social and political portrait of Alexandria at a high point of its history Drawing on diaries letters and interviews Michael Haag recovers the lost life of the city its cosmopolitan inhabitants and its literary characters Located on the coast of Africa yet rich in historical associations with Western civilization Alexandria was home to an exotic variety of people whose cosmopolitan families had long been rooted in the commerce and the culture of the entire Mediterranean world Alexandria famously excited the imaginations of writers and Haag folds intimate accounts of E M Forster Greek poet Constantine Cavafy and Lawrence Durrell into the story of its inhabitants He recounts the city s experience of the two world wars and explores the communities that gave Alexandria its unique flavor the Greek the Italian and the Jewish The book deftly harnesses the sexual and emotional charge of cosmopolitan life in this extraordinary city and highlights the social and political changes over the decades that finally led to Nasser s Egypt

Alexandrian Cosmopolitanism Hala Halim,2013-09-19 Interrogating how Alexandria became enshrined as the exemplary cosmopolitan space in the Middle East this book mounts a radical critique of Eurocentric conceptions of cosmopolitanism The dominant account of Alexandrian cosmopolitanism elevates things European in the city s culture and simultaneously places things Egyptian under the sign of decline The book goes beyond this civilization barbarism binary to trace other modes of intercultural solidarity Halim presents a comparative study of literary representations addressing poetry fiction guidebooks and operettas among other genres She reappraises three writers C P Cavafy E M Forster and Lawrence Durrell whom she maintains have been cast as the canon of Alexandria Attending to issues of genre gender ethnicity and class she refutes the view that these writers representations are largely congruent and uncovers a variety of positions ranging from Orientalist to anti colonial The book then turns to Bernard de Zogheb a virtually unpublished writer and elicits his Camp parodies of elite Levantine mores in operettas one of which centers on Cavafy Drawing on Arabic critical and historical texts as well as contemporary writers and filmmakers engagement with the canonical triumvirate Halim

The Crisis from Within: Historians, Theory, and the Humanities Nigel Raab, 2015-05-19 In The Crisis from Within Nigel Raab explores weaknesses that emerge when using interdisciplinary theories in historical analysis With chapters that focus on knowledge language memory imagining and inventing and civil society the analysis reveals how theoretical applications can be the source of interpretive confusion By drawing from a global range of historical works Nigel Raab demonstrates how this problem concerns all historical sub-fields From science in the seventeenth century to communism in the twentieth century theories often overdetermine analysis in a way the historian never intended After the enthusiastic reception of theory for over a generation The Crisis from Within argues that the time has come to pause and think seriously about how we wish to proceed with theory

The Aesthetic Sense of Life Bruce Fleming, 2008 The Aesthetic Sense of Life is a fast moving book about how to see the world and get value from living every day with the everyday Do the infinite number of sensations we re surrounded with every day have intrinsic value If not what gives them value Who appreciates the sunrise if we don t Is it enough for just us to appreciate it Or do we have to share it The Aesthetic Sense of Life considers and answers to questions such as these in clear readable prose offering a way of looking at life that makes clear its value and its meaning The aesthetic sense of life is neither the viewpoint of the saints for whom the sensations of the world are mere murmuring and illusion nor the viewpoint of those completely fulfilled by their things their gadgets the particulars of their own lives Most of us fall in the middle between these two extremes we appreciate say a good cup of coffee a power tool a new set of towels or a juicy steak but don t think the answer to the riddle of existence is to be found in any of these We appreciate them without thinking them sufficient What s missing from them What s missing is this a sense that they can give meaning to life The Aesthetic Sense of Life proposes that meaning is found not in these particulars but in consciousness of the patterns they form The feel of our towels or the taste of our coffee is just for us Others have their own sensations so they don t need ours What we can share with other people and thus use to re establish the bonds of human warmth are the patterns made by these particulars something others can appreciate as well Awareness of these patterns constitutes the aesthetic sense of life which gives richness and meaning to the everyday
