Assisted Suicide Theory And Practice In Elective Death:

Assisted Suicide C. G. Prado, S. J. Taylor, 1999 Court cases in the United States Canada attendant media coverage have transformed assisted suicide from an unspoken practice to a pressing social issue Assisted suicide has joined abortion as one of the major most intractable issues of our time recent developments indicate that despite setbacks an aging population resultant changes in social values will foster wider acceptance of assisted suicide its eventual legalization Contrary to the impression conveyed by current media coverage legalization is actually not the central issue regarding assisted suicide The debate is about sanctioning a current albeit limited practice The debate is about removing criminal prohibitions not about initiating a practice Assisted suicide is practiced now regardless of its illegality The truly important questions are about whether suicide ever makes good sense whether assisting suicide is ever permissible And if so what professional ethics should govern its provision Like abortion assisted suicide raises questions which pose profound moral social political dilemmas Effective ethical guidance for assisted suicide is not lacking for want of effort it is lacking because of conflict dissent Arguments about it arise from a class of divergent conceptions of personal autonomy the nature of human life The hard fact that assisted suicide is practiced regardless of its legality makes questions about the ethics that govern it pressing Prado Taylor aim to enable compromise between ethical theoreticians clinicians about the provision of assisted suicide by clarifying what is most at issue in their argument Prado Taylor do not agree one spends his working time pondering epistemological questions the other spends her working time forging ethical answers Their collaboration results in a constructive exploration of the issue of assisted suicide

CONTENTS Theory Practice Criteria for Rational Suicide A Genuine Unimpaired Choice Accessible Motivation The Interest in Survival The Slippery Slope A Recapitulation New Decision

Bibliography A Liberal Catholic Bioethics James F. Drane, 2010 A Liberal Catholic Bioethics opens a new dialogue between Christian reasoning and belief and secular positions in bioethics The well documented book covers in detail internal and external debates and positions of Roman Catholic theology and hierarchy issues of contraception and abortion palliative care and euthanasia caring humanely for the demented the use and abuse of modern technology in medicine The doctrine of Papal infallibility is identified as a main reason in hindering and suppressing a dialogue within the church with the faithful and with other religious and humanist positions Were the Borgia Popes infallible was Pope Urban infallible when he condemned Galileo the author asks He thus carries the debate far beyond specific bioethics issues towards a more humane medicine and culture

Assisted Suicide C. G. Prado, 2000 When it became possible to extend the dying process it became necessary to decide when to stop doing so because of the enormous personal and social costs But perspectives on assisted suicide vary greatly Physicians see it as a medical issue jurists as a legal issue philosophers as a moral issue and the media as a political issue These original essays show how these perspectives shape the ongoing debate Published in English

Coping with Choices to Die C. G. Prado, 2010-11-01 This book examines the reactions of the friends and family of those who elect to die due to terminal illness These surviving spouses partners relatives and friends in addition to coping with the death of a loved one must also deal with the loved one s decision to die thus severing the relationship C G Prado examines how reactions to elective death are influenced by cultural influences and beliefs particularly those related to life death and the possibility of an afterlife Understanding the role of these cultural influences on the grieving processes of survivors is a crucial step in allowing them to accept both intellectually and emotionally the finality of elective death and to deal with the decision of their loved one

The Value of Suicide Eric v.d. Luft,2012-12-05 Philosophical examination of the ontology and ethics of suicide i e what suicide is from the perspective of being and what the effects of suicide are in the world when it is morally permitted

Soul, Self, and Society Edward L. Rubin,2015 Morality is not declining in the modern world Instead a new morality is replacing the previous one Centered on individual self fulfillment and linked to administrative government it permits things the old morality forbid like sex for pleasure but forbids things the old morality allowed like intolerance and equality of opportunity

Physician-assisted Suicide Gail N. Hawkins,2002 Advocates of physician assisted suicide insist that terminally ill individuals should have the right to choose when to end their suffering Opponents respond that if the practice becomes acceptable society will pressure patients into choosing death instead of providing them with quality end of life care This insightful anthology examines the debate over whether medical personnel should be involved in hastening the death of the terminally ill

Walking the Tightrope of Faith ,2023-12-28 This book expands upon the dialogue between the atheist philosopher Kai Nielsen and the Christian philosopher Hendrik Hart in the book Search for Community in A Withering Tradition Collected here for the first time are the responses of several prominent Canadian philosophers to Nielsen s outspoken work in the philosophy of religion including their responses to Hart s criticisms of Nielsen New replies by Hart and Nielsen to these added voices are also included This volume is of interest for students in the philosophy of religion who wish to examine the encounter between religious faith and secular humanism at the close of the twentieth century an increasingly postmodern time in which the appeal to an a historical standard of rationality is no longer sought or even thought possible This book tackles tough topics like the appropriate role of reason in the intellectual criticism and defense of faith the limits of the rational justification of human knowledge the role of pre reflective commitments in human intellectual life the nature of truth and the possibility for peace in a world consisting of a plural and often violent collection of cultural and religious groups

Physical Therapy Ethics Donald L Gabard,Mike W Martin,2010-09-02 The thoroughly revised updated and expanded 2nd Edition offers physical therapists the tools they need as they confront the ethical dilemmas and moral controversies that they will encounter in professional practice At the same time it stimulates reflection on the moral significance of a therapist s work a neglected area of study

Ruminations: Selected Philosophical, Historical, and Ideological Papers, Volume 1, Part 2. The Finite Eric v.d. Luft,2020-09-13 Since the 1970s I have pursued three separate but overlapping and sometimes simultaneous careers 1 philosopher writer teacher historian of the long nineteenth century 1789 1914 2 editor translator photographer publisher biographer encyclopedist 3 cataloging librarian rare books and special collections librarian historian of medicine Somehow these three vocations have garnered me some acclaim even an entry in Who's Who in America Each of them has resulted in some published or presented works Because these works have been scattered in a wide variety of venues some of which have gone out of print or have otherwise become generally unavailable and of course with the oral presentations being gone as soon as they are given I have thought it wise to select epitomize and bring them together in one place here Thus what follows in these volumes is what I consider to be the most important of my shorter works All translations are my own unless otherwise indicated From Dawn till Dusk Evangelos D.

Protopapadakis, 2019-11-15 From Dawn till Dusk embraces the conceptual challenges often associated with Bioethics by taking the reader on a journey that embodies the circle of life and what it means to be human The beginning and the end of life have always been an impossible riddle to humans Bioethics does not aspire to unveil utter truths regarding the purpose of our existence on the contrary its task is to settle controversial issues that arise within this finite very fragile and vulnerable life yet a life we still have to live This book discusses thorny ethical issues that transcend time and are related to the dawn and the dusk of life abortion and infanticide genetic engineering human reproductive cloning the fear of death rational suicide and the right to die The book's highest aspiration though is to both provide the reader with an opportunity to see the world from different perspectives and to showcase the irresistible charms of bioethical debates This book brings contemporary issues in bioethics into conversation with different philosophical views both ancient and modern The result is a rewarding and very readable discussion on a range of important questions about life and death Peter Singer Princeton University University of Melbourne Evangelos D Protopapadakis book is a philosophically rich discussion of major topics in bioethics about issues of life and death The work is original and important I believe the author is correct to argue that the central issues of bioethics at its core in these areas should be understood as moral in nature and should not be framed as principally legal or scientific Tom L Beauchamp Georgetown University Bioethics is in philosophical terms a new field But it builds on centuries of thought on the human condition the meaning of life and the fundamental ethical question What should we do Evangelos D Protopapadakis masterful volume traces modern bioethical debates with all their increasing scientific complexity back through ancient and modern philosophical thought The result is a sparkling and engaging journey through the history of ideas and the current ethical challenges at the beginning and end of life Julian Savulescu Uehiro Chair in Practical Ethics University of Oxford As the Head of the Greek Unit of the Chair but also as an ethicist and a bioethicist Professor Protopapadakis has never been weary to contribute to philosophically nuanced bioethical debates This inspiring book is the manifestation of his attitude towards Bioethics Amnon Carmi Holder of the UNESCO Chair in Bioethics Haifa This book presents important connections between current positions and classical approaches in ethics written in a lively way Hans Werner Ingensiep Universit t Duisburg Essen Evangelos Protopapadakis book provides nuanced insights describing the complex ethical problems which clinicians and society must address This creative analysis incorporates ancient and contemporary historical examples to illuminate the disparate arguments used to justify conflicting philosophical responses

Susan M Miller MD MPH Agewise Margaret Morganroth Gullette, 2013-10-21 Let's face it almost everyone fears growing older We worry about losing our looks our health our jobs our self esteem and being supplanted in work and love by younger people It feels like the natural inevitable consequence of the passing years But what if it's not What if nearly everything that we think of as the natural process of aging is anything but In Agewise renowned cultural critic Margaret Morganroth Gullette reveals that much of what we dread about aging is actually the result of ageism which we can and should battle as strongly as we do racism sexism and other forms of bigotry Drawing on provocative and under reported evidence from biomedicine literature economics and personal stories Gullette probes the ageism that drives discontent with our bodies our selves and our accomplishments and makes us easy prey for marketers who want to sell us an illusory vision of youthful perfection Even worse rampant ageism causes society to discount and at times completely discard the wisdom and experience acquired by people over the course of adulthood The costs both collective and personal of this culture of decline are almost incalculable diminishing our workforce robbing younger people of hope for a decent later life and eroding the satisfactions and sense of productivity that should animate our later years Once we open our eyes to the pervasiveness of ageism however we can begin to fight it and Gullette lays out ambitious plans for the whole life course from teaching children anti ageism to fortifying the social safety nets and thus finally making possible the real pleasures and opportunities promised by the new longevity A bracing controversial call to arms Agewise will surprise enlighten and perhaps most important bring hope to readers of all ages

Ethics Barbara MacKinnon, 2001 Combining theory and issues with text and readings this ethics text begins with coverage of ethical theory utilitarianism Kant's moral theory natural law and virtue ethics It then goes on to discuss contemporary ethical issues ranging from personal ones such as sexual morality and euthanasia to matters of public policy such as legal punishment and international concerns such as war and peace and economic justice The Last Choice C.G. Prado, 1998-10-30 This second edition of a thoughtful analysis of how society views suicides has been thoroughly updated to reflect issues of assisted suicide and other right to die issues

Death, Dying and Bereavement in a Changing World Alan R. Kemp, 2015-10-16 This title takes a comprehensive approach exploring the physical social psychological and spiritual dimensions of death dying and bereavement Through personal stories from real people Death Dying and Bereavement provides readers with a context for understanding their changing encounters with such difficult concepts
