Affective Mapping Affective Mapping:

Affective Mapping Jonathan FLATLEY, Jonathan Flatley, 2009-06-30 The surprising claim of this book is that dwelling on loss is not necessarily depressing Instead embracing melancholy can be a road back to contact with others and can lead people to productively remap their relationship to the world around them Flatley demonstrates that a seemingly disparate set of modernist writers and thinkers showed how aesthetic activity can give us the means to comprehend and change our relation to loss

Mapping Different Geographies Karel Kriz, William Cartwright, Lorenz Hurni, 2010-09-15 This book is the outcome of the work of contributors who participated in the workshop Mapping Different Geographies MDG in February 2010 held in Puchberg am Schneeberg Austria This meeting brought together cartographers artists and geoscientists who research and practice in applications that focus on enhancing or to one communication or develop and evaluate methodologies that provide innovative methods for sharing information The main intention of the workshop was to investigate how different geographies are being mapped and the possibilities for developing new theories and techniques for information design and transfer based on place or location So as to communicate these concepts it was important to appreciate the many contrasting meanings of mapping that were held by workshop participants Also the many and varied viewpoints of what different geographies are were elaborated upon and discussed Therefore as the focus on space and time was embedded within everyone's fields of investigation this was addressed during the workshop This resulted in very engaging discourse which in some cases exposed the restrictions that certain approaches need to consider For participants this proved to be most useful as this allowed them to appreciate the limits and restrictions of their own approach to understanding and representing different geographies As well the workshop also was most helpful as a vehicle for demonstrating the common ground of interest held by the very diverse areas of endeavour that the workshop participants work within CORP 2012 - Proceedings/Tagungsband Manfred Schrenk, Peter Zeile, Vasily V. Popovich, Pietro Elisei, 2012 RE MIXING THE CITY Towards Sustainability and Resilience There is nothing permanent except change Heraclitus Cities worldwide are facing rapid social economic environmental technological and cultural changes such as rapid urbanisation aging of society security issues housing emergency new solutions on mobility integration of immigrants food and water shortage etc Especially in times of economic crisis and demographic changes in cities it is necessary to think about how to best handle what we have and therefore RE MIXING THE CITY is a challenge to manage and re combine the elements which make our modern cities in order to better respond to change Affect, Gender and Sexuality in Latin America Cecilia Macón, Mariela Solana, Nayla Luz Vacarezza, 2021-02-23 This book emphasizes the significance of affects feelings and emotions in how we think about politics gender and sexuality in Latin America Considering the complex and even contradictory social processes that the region is experiencing today many Latin American authors are turning to affect to find a key to understand our present situation to revisit our history and to imagine new possibilities for the future This tendency has shown such a specificity and sometimes departure from northern productions that it compels us to focus more deeply on its own arguments methods and critical contributions This volume features essays that explore the particularities of Latin American ways of thinking about affect and how they can shed new light into our understanding of gender sexuality and politics Mapping Black Women's Geographies Kimberly Blockett, 2024-08-09 Spanning three centuries this book demonstrates a variety of archival practices to tell more expansive stories about Black women It examines the life writing records and ephemera of Black women such as political reformer Sydna E R Francis educators Edmonia Highgate and Lucy F Simms travel writer Nancy Prince poet June Jordan novelist Jesmyn Ward and self liberator Matilda Hawkins Tyler enslaved by her own Jesuit church at St Louis University The contributors use oral histories data visualization and biographical documents and narratives to map these and countless anonymized stories across geographic locations Tracking the voluntary and forced movement of Black women alongside the places and spaces they inhabit gives us richer more contextualized histories The authors probe and answer how these women moved through and beyond systemic barriers and physical dangers while placing themselves at the center of change The stories crystalize the joys horrors quotidian experiences and endurance of marginalized lives Each chapter illustrates ways to build archival and theoretical spaces that interrogate the many ways that Black women have navigated formidable and dangerous lands This interdisciplinary volume will be of interest to students and researchers of comparative literature gender studies and Black studies The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of a b Auto

Re/Imagining Depression

Julie Hollenbach, Robin Alex McDonald, 2021-09-21 What is depression An imagined sun bright and black at the same time A noonday demon In literature poetry comics visual art and film we witness new conceptualizations of depression come into being Unburdened by diagnostic criteria and pharmaceutical politics these media employ imagery narrative symbolism and metaphor to forge imaginative exploratory and innovative representations of a range of experiences that might get called depression Texts such as Julia Kristeva's Black Sun Depression and Melancholia 1989 Andrew Solomon's The Noonday Demon 2000 Allie Brosh's cartoons Adventures in Depression 2011 and Depression Part Two 2013 and Lars von Trier's film Melancholia 2011 each offer portraits of depression that deviate from or altogether reject the dominant language of depression that has been articulated by and within psychiatry Most recently Ann Cvetkovich's Depression A Public Feeling 2012 has answered the author's own call for a multiplication of discourses on depression by positing crafting as one possible method of working through depression as impasse. Inspired by Cvetkovich's efforts to re-shape the depressive experience itself and the critical ways in which we communicate this experience to others, Re-Imagining Depression: Creative Approaches to Feeling Bad harnesses critical theory, gender studies, critical race theory, affect theory, visual art, performance, film, television, poetry, literature, comics, and other media to generate new paradigms for thinking about the depressive experience. Through a combination of academic essays, prose poetry, and interviews, this anthology aims to destabilize the idea of the mental health expert to instead demonstrate the diversity of affects, embodiments, rituals, and behaviors that are often collapsed under the singular rubric of depression.
