Vinayaraj, 2023-08-22 Transgressing is an appropriate response to race as a crime against humanity No one chooses their race at birth yet many suffer because of their race And while many people choose to change citizenship their accents and faces can give them away as outsiders Racism thrives on the categorization of people according to their race Like the Black and White dichotomy other racial and ethnic discriminations such as casteism antisemitism Zionism xenophobia and Islamophobia undergird and promote segregation all around the world Dismantling racism requires challenging racialized oppressions and segregations in sacred texts and contexts in beloved traditions and hallowed theologies This book offers such biblical and theological discourses in order to transgress the discriminative segregations of racism in connection with other forms of exploitative systems or systems The book engages with racialized biblical texts and religious theologies with acts of racial discrimination in connection with slavery and colonialism with agonies of people in diaspora struggles of postcolonial minoritized people courage of indigenous people to subvert and with the race insensitive practices of theological and religious education The contributors are located in Africa Asia North America Europe and Oceania Architecture, Theology, and Ethics Elise M. Architecture Theology and Ethics Making Architectural Design More Just argues that architecture design and creativity are theological ethical concerns that ought to be considered more deeply by Christians who are committed to social and environmental justice Elise M Edwards discusses the significance of architectural design entering into ongoing conversations in theological ethics and aesthetics She argues that architectural design is not just a professional practice for wealthy clients but rather an activity that everyday people undertake when making choices that shape the spaces they inhabit If Christians think theologically about their agency in these decisions they will discover that architectural design becomes an opportunity to contribute to the flourishing for humanity and God's creation Edwards proposes an approach to architectural design that presents it as prophetic action with the power to shape our world This book then presents five moral commitments that guide design intentions and the process of design towards justice and inclusion Grounded in liberationist feminist and womanist thought Architecture Theology and Ethics makes a compelling case for architecture's relevance to Christian ethics and theology Creation and Christian Ethics Dennis P. Hollinger, 2023-11-07 Creation is a foundational pillar of the biblical storyline yet it plays little role in contemporary evangelical ethics Seeking to correct this oversight Dennis Hollinger employs the creation story and creation themes throughout Scripture as a foundation for Christian ethics After demonstrating why creation is theologically significant and important for Christian ethics Hollinger develops major creation paradigms that provide ethical guidance on a wide range of issues including money sex power racism creation care social institutions and artificial intelligence among many others Creation and Christian Ethics shows throughout that the triune God creates from love and in that creation are moral designs for humanity's journey in God's world Professors and students of Christian ethics will find this a valuable resource for the classroom while pastors and church leaders will benefit from personal and small group study More Than Chains and Toil Joan Martin, 2000-01-01 In More than Chains and Toil Joan Martin explores the experiences of enslaved women and the realities of their social world to uncover the interrelationships among moral agency work and human meaning She then reflects ethically on the implications such a distinct perspective on labor might have for women in contemporary African American communities and for broader discussions about the meaning of work in American society Preaching the Manifold Grace of God, Volume 1 Ronald J. Lightsey, 2015-09-18 Our Lives Matter uses the tenor of the 2014 national protests that emerged as a response to excessive police force against Black people to frame the book as following the discursive tradition of liberation theologies broadly speaking and womanist theology specifically Using a womanist methodological approach Pamela R Lightsey helps readers explore the impact of oppression against Black LGBTQ women while introducing them to the emergent intellectual movement known as queer theology The author privileges their narratives and experiences as she reviews several doctrines and dogma of the Christian church Theological reflection on contemporary debates such as same sex marriage and ordination rights make this book a valuable resource to clergy students of theology LGBTQ persons and allies Immaculate

Misconceptions Amey Victoria Adkins-Jones, 2025-03-16 Immaculate Misconceptions A Black Mariology begins with this claim to challenge how Christian thinking of salvation possibility and identity are challenged when we rethink assumptions about race gender and divine significance through the lens of the Virgin Mary and specifically through a return to the Black Madonna A layered journey is offered through art theology and culture to consider a theology arising from the condition of the Black Mother a theology following the condition of the Black Madonna a theology for the consideration of all those who pursue justice and life at the spiritual intersections of the world questioning the legislative doctrine around our perceptions of Mary as the mother of God and extending conversations forward to consider the what else of life Immaculate Misconceptions considers how Christian collusion with colonialism capitalism and anti Blackness have worked theologically to deny Blackness from the realms of the sacred Through the lens of art and icon the treatise thinks through Black women s reproductive legacies and revisits the figure of the Black Madonna as a necessary return to the womb as hush harbor birth as liturgy and Black life as holy Theological Education and Christian Scholarship for Human Flourishing Celucien L.

Joseph, 2022-09-14 This book explores the interconnection of theological education and Christian scholarship cultural and theological hermeneutics pedagogy and community knowledge democracy and citizenship Yet the three major disciplines or discourses covered in this work include multicultural education theology and hermeneutics through the lens of human flourishing and the concept of the good life From this angle this project is written from three different methods and approaches that intersect with each other a theology of contextualization a hermeneutics of interculturality and a pedagogy of cultural literacy and transformative community knowledge The book advances the idea that theological education should be the starting point to foster candid conversations about the importance of democracy and human rights civic engagement and the political life inclusion and diversity and pluralism and difference in our multicultural society The book uses the tools of multicultural education and cultural knowledge to enhance democracy and promote fundamental human virtues that would sustain the good life and human flourishing in the world in the Aristotelian sense and in the Socratic idea of local and world citizenship Finally this text offers an alternative vision to contemporary theological education to deconstruct the white male and Eurocentric narratives of theological education and Christian scholarship On Teaching and Learning Christian Ethics

D. Stephen Long,2024-03-01 An expansion of the discipline of ethics demonstrates that Aquinas's infusing of virtue makes better sense of the moral life than finding a method to guide action While teaching ethics is universally applauded how one goes about it is much more difficult and contested than is often recognized On Teaching and Learning Christian Ethics addresses what it means to teach and learn ethics through a thorough comparison of two ethicists Henry Sidgwick and F D Maurice Where Sidgwick understood ethics as developing a method for guiding voluntary action to what is right Maurice maintained that ethics concerns life as a whole and that requires placing it within a metaphysical and theological realm in which the good is much more definitive than right This comparative history argues that Maurice's use of Thomas Aquinas's infusing of virtue makes better sense of the moral life of ordinary persons than the specialized academic discipline Sidgwick bequeathed Long expands the discipline of ethics through the central theme of his work that moral life is a gift rather than an achievement He provides a clear argument in favor of a more holistic approach to teaching ethics Chloe and Her People

Mitzi J. Smith,2023-04-28 Chloe and Her People offers an Africana Womanist reading of First Corinthians that privileges the knowledge experiences histories traditions voices and artifacts of Black women and the Black community that challenge or dissent from Paul's rhetorical epistemic constructions Smith reads First Corinthians dialogically from the perspective of oppressed and marginalized readers situated in front of the text and those muted within and behind the letter Struggling toward unmitigated freedom Chloe and Her People talks back to and throws shade on sometimes poetically Paul's muting and subordination of women rhetorically constructed binary knowledge the glass ceiling placed on women's heads heterosexual marriage as a mechanism for managing lust and androcentric patriarchal love built on women's passive bodies
